DOMESTIC VIOLENCE LEGAL NETWORK OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY (DVLN)
THE EDUCATION & AWARENESS COMMITTEE

The Domestic Violence Legal Network of Montgomery County (DVLN) has been established to provide education and awareness to families involved in domestic violence.

We are a group of 32 agencies that provide a variety of services and referrals to those involved.

We do what we do because we know that one-in-four woman are victimized by a loved one or family member; as well as one-in-seven men! With children living in the household often suffering for a lifetime, if the issue is not uncovered and addressed.

OCTOBER IS DOMESTIC VIOLENCE AWARENESS MONTH so to that end we have decided to offer a list of service providers along with how they can help; whether you are a victim, abuser, child, or family member look to help. Throughout the month of October we will be publishing information from many of our members to help anyone who needs assistance.

At the end of the article we will publish a list of local, state, and national agencies who may help!

Shelter and Hotline information

Daily, Laurel House continues to monitor the spread of the coronavirus, taking all possible precautions to keep our staff, volunteers, and clients safe. In this effort, all our satellite counseling offices throughout Montgomery County have been closed until further notice. Our administrative and outreach office in East Norriton has remained partially open with minimal staffing.

To facilitate social distancing, we are not accepting new clients into our shelter currently. Instead, when an individual or family needs shelter from domestic abuse, we are placing them in a local hotel and providing advocacy and case management services, as well as meals and other needed supplies. Safety planning, resource referral and support are still being offered through our 24-hour confidential hotline at 1-800-642-3150.

The families in our Transitional Housing program continue to receive support and services. Our Family Advocate has been busy assisting these families with their children’s virtual learning and school assignments. Counselors continue to provide services using telehealth via phone/text and video conferencing technology. The use of this technology allows us to ensure that anyone who needs, or is currently receiving, counseling from Laurel House has access to continued sessions. Laurel House’s Domestic Abuse Response Team (DART) advocates are working remotely and continue to take crisis calls from first responders. Advocates provide safety planning, PFA assistance, legal advocacy and can safely drop off needed supplies (i.e. cleaning supplies, toiletries, etc.) to clients through ‘no contact’ measures. Our Attorney and Paralegal also continue to work with current clients and new referrals.

Laurel House’s Community Educators are hosting virtual trainings for middle schools, high schools, and colleges on safe dating and friendship fundamentals. If an educator is interested in setting up a virtual learning session for their students, they can contact education@laurel-house.org.

While these are uncertain times, we will get through this crisis together and continue in our mission to end domestic violence. We urge everyone to stay safe and be as cautious as possible right now.

RESOURCES FOR CHILDREN

The Office of Children & Youth Continues to Support Families through the Pandemic

The Office of Children & Youth (OCY) has been fully open and functional since the onset of the pandemic; accepting referrals, visiting families and providing services. Always a mobile profession, OCY had much of the needed technology and procedures in place to accommodate virtual contacts and social distancing. The car, the kitchen table, and the local playground, quickly replaced the cubicle, conference table, and the visiting room. Whenever possible, caseworkers meet with children and families outside, on the front porch, the back yard, or the local park. But, when there is a concern for child safety, caseworkers, like all first responders, put themselves at risk to do their job.

Hardships caused by the pandemic; job loss, school closures, illness, and isolation greatly impact the families involved with OCY. Many need help with basic needs, child care, and other services. Concerns about unreported child abuse and domestic violence grow as children are disconnected from teachers and other mandated reporters. With the help from the Office of Integrates Services, OCY quickly mobilized to distribute food and other needed items. OCY workers and contracted providers have found new and innovative ways to offer supports and deliver services to families safely. OCY works closely with the Office of Community Information & Education to increase awareness through social media about the signs of child abuse and encourage all community members to be vigilant and report abuse.

OCY has over 150 employees; even before the pandemic it was hard to get to know everyone. Keeping employees connected in the face of COVID-19 has been challenging. The OCY Continuous Quality Improvement Team put into place a variety of events aimed at bringing staff together - virtually. During Spirit Week staff members were invited to daily Zoom events like Pet Day, Bring Your Kid to Work Day, and a Friday afternoon “Mocktail Hour.” Virtual coffee breaks and lunch hours create opportunities for “water-cooler” conversations and monthly all staff meetings bring everyone together. Recognizing the added stress brought on by working through a pandemic and ongoing social justice issues, OCY dedicated the month of June to self-care and sponsored related activities such as Listening Circles and guided meditation.

The upheaval caused by the pandemic led to an increased need for Team Decision Making Meetings. While this is not a new service, holding these meetings via ZOOM has been an adjustment, and a lifesaver. Families and caseworkers come together to address specific problems. Trained facilitators guide the strength-based discussion and settle on collaborative solutions helping to avert further crises.

A silver lining of the pandemic has been an increase in people interested in becoming foster parents. Switching from in person to virtual training for prospective parents has worked surprisingly well. Our foster parents have been a bedrock of stability for our children throughout these challenging times.

Montgomery County Domestic Relations Section (DRS) continues to offer services to clients including but not limited to: Parent Locate Services, Paternity Establishment, and the Establishment, Modification, and Enforcement of Child, Spousal, and Medical Support orders.

Due to COVID-19, clients are currently unable to physically appear in the DRS. However, all services continue to operate. At the present time Support filings, Support conferences, and Support hearings are being addressed remotely, via telephonic or video conference. Clients are able to submit their requests for support services online by accessing E-Services on the PA Child Support Website or they may mail, e-mail, or fax the forms and documents required. Documents for conferences and hearings can be uploaded via a secured link that is provided to clients upon the filing being reviewed or a conference/hearing being scheduled. The Montgomery County Domestic Relations Section continues its adherence to strict policy to safeguard confidential client information for all of its clients. For clients experiencing domestic violence there are several options available to allow the client to pursue support safely. These options include, but are not limited to:

- Scheduling the parties' genetic testing appointment on different dates and times
- Contacting the client prior to the support conference to address their concerns and assess risk(s)
- Updating the Family Violence Indicator (FVI) for a protected member.

When the DRS becomes aware that there is an active Protection from Abuse Order (PFA) for a member on a case against the other party, or there is reason to believe that the possible disclosure of information regarding the whereabouts of an individual or child may jeopardize their safety, the DRS employee will update the FVI for that member in PACSES (PA Child Support Enforcement System). The Family Violence Indicator (FVI) prevents sharing any information that may be used to locate a person that is at risk. The protected members address will not print on forms. This procedure allows families that need protection to benefit from Child Support services, while ensuring their safety.

LEGAL RESOURCES

Calls to 911
The Norristown Police Department, as part of DVLN and Domestic Violence Awareness Month, would like everyone to remember the following when it comes to domestic violence:
- Domestic violence is one of our highest priorities, as we know that the incidents are likely to continue until the cycle can be broken and an intervention can be held;
- Call 911 for any emergencies that arise and do not be afraid—we are here to protect victims of domestic violence, no matter what the person’s status may be; 911 can also be used in non-emergent situations where a victim or potential victim is just looking to speak to an officer about his or her concerns or questions;
- The police are also here to protect any children that may be living with domestic violence incidents occurring in their homes, no matter if they are victims or not;
- We will refer any and all victims to the appropriate social agency that will best be able to provide support and assistance to any victims or family members that are experiencing domestic violence;
- All victims have the right to a copy of any police report that they filed and should request a copy of the report for their own records.

Legal Remedies—Protection from Abuse
The Montgomery County Protection from Abuse (PFA) office is open during COVID and filers may enter the Courthouse to file for temporary protection orders. All filers must comply with the CDC and Montgomery County’s COVID Guidelines. Anyone entering the Courthouse will be subject to a noninvasive temperature check and must wear a mask. The doors open to the public between 8:30 – 2:00 p.m. PFA filers will be instructed where to go to fill out the necessary paperwork and meet with a representative from the PFA office.

Due to the length of time required for completion of the process, filers are encouraged to arrive as early as possible. In order to have a temporary PFA heard the same day, the filer must have completed the petition and be at the Prothonotary’s office to file by 1:00 p.m. All others are given the emergency phone number 1-800-773-2424 to call after hours to the Women’s Center Domestic Violence Hotline for assistance to obtain an emergency PFA after hours. The filer must return the following day to complete the process.

Please note that no one other than the filer may enter the Courthouse unless the filer needs assistance due to a disability or language assistance. Filers are advised not to bring children to the Courthouse, however if unavoidable, an adult should accompany the filer and watch the children outside the Courthouse.
